

Wedgwood Coop

more than a preschool - a community

Fall 2018

Wedgwood Cooperative Preschool is a non-profit, parent run preschool with a long history in this community. We are writing to you today to ask for your support for our Spring Silent Auction on April 22nd, 2019. We are seeking donations of time and talent from our community, and items or gift certificates from local businesses. This auction is our most important fundraising event. Here's a little bit more information:

About Wedgwood Coop: It is a well-established preschool in Northeast Seattle, offering enrichment programs for children and parents for over four decades! We have three play-based learning classes, and our students range from toddlers to five year olds. Parents receive credited parent education from North Seattle College Parent Education Program, as well as access to resources and talks. Families connect to run the school, and to support each other in and outside of the classroom. Children learn to work in community and make lasting relationships.

About the auction and fundraising: The largest portion of fundraising at Wedgwood Coop goes to scholarships through the Parent Advisory Council (PAC), or in-house scholarships at Wedgwood. PAC represents 42 preschools and provides scholarships to approximately 10% of cooperative families in the system. Wedgwood fundraising is also used to enrich the programs for our students and update our equipment.

About your donation and support: Donations to our auction are a great way to introduce yourself to our school community. We share information about the donors before, during and after the bidding day with our school community. Wedgwood is a nonprofit, so your donations are also tax deductible. You will be given a tax ID number when we fill out the procurement form.

Our silent auction takes place at our all-school meeting on Monday April 22nd 2019. All contributions should be received by Monday April 15th.
